

04/08/2007 – The Pale Rider

On April 8, 2007, I saw in the clouds a pale horse and rider. It reminded me of Death on the Pale Horse from The Book of Revelation. The rider held a scythe used for reaping the harvest. I thought it was just a cool cloud - I didn't realize what this vision meant until years later.

The Lord began to show me other things in the sky, like this cherub, to train me to see....(not a real angel, just a classic cherub leaning on the clouds - for training purposes only, so I would learn to recognize one way that He communicates with me. He used the same technique with the prophets Elijah and Jeremiah.)

Over time I began to see more images in the clouds. They started making more sense. I began to actually learn how to read them and understand what God was telling me!
